4. The following Papers, together with Samples of the Opium to be sold, will be exhibited for the inspection of the Merchants on the day of Sale, or may be seen previously to that date, by application to the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium.

No. 1. Certificates of the Opium now Advertised for Sale.

No. 2. Report of the Examination of such Opium.

5. The Public are hereby informed, that in providing the Investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the Current Year, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during the Thirty-four preceding Years, to have the Drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of Leaves used in forming the Cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each Cake.—The Instructions issued to the Agents relative to the Provision of the said Opium, together with an account of the Weight of the Drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a Statement of the average Weight of Six Chests from each dispatch at Calcutta, may be seen on application at the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium.

6. Four Chests of Behar and Benares Opium which have been reserved from the provision of the two preceding years, will be also shewn to the Purchasers on the day of Sale, to enable them to judge of the state of preservation in which the Drug has kept.

7. Application has been made by the French Authorities for the 300 Chests of Opium, deliverable to them under the 6th Article of a Convention between Great Britain and France, dated 7th March 1815, in proportions of 140, 130, and 30 Chests respectively out of the Quantities declared for Sale on the 20th December 1833, and 20th March and 21st April next; but in the event of the whole or any portion of the Opium thus claimed by the French Government not being cleared out within the limited period, such Quantity of Opium, or any part thereof as may remain uncleared, will be brought to Sale at the Sale next ensuing the date of payment, or at a Sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

8. Considerable loss and inconvenience having resulted from persons not of known credit being suffered to bid at the Opium Sales, the Public are hereby apprized that the Superintendent of the Sale has been empowered to reject the bid of any individual of the character above-mentioned, unless he shall tender at the time a Deposit either in Cash or in Company's Securities as aforesaid, equal to Ten per Cent. on the amount of the Lot or Lots which he may offer to purchase, and the last mentioned sum shall afterwards be completed to Thirty per Cent. at or before the time hereinbefore-mentioned for making such Deposit as aforesaid; and it is hereby stipulated that such sum of Ten per Cent. shall be forfeited to the United East India Company, provided the same shall not be completed to Thirty per Cent. within Ten days next after the day of such Sale, and that the Opium for which such Deposit of Ten per Cent. may have been made, shall be sold under the directions of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, for and on behalf of the said United East India Company.

By Order of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, the 1st April, 1834,

And if such Goods be seized in illegal transit to, or when alongside of, a Vessel other than that for which they have been passed through this Office, they will be liable to eventual confiscation under Section III. CALCUTTA CUSTOMS.

SEA DEPARTMENT.—If Goods are Exported in full of Rowanahs then current; but are Re-landed, and not subsequently Re-exported until after the Rowanahs are time-expired, then such Goods are considered as fresh Exports, are treated as if they had never been protected by Rowanahs, and Duty is taken, if any be leviable on such Goods under the Regulations. But upon request made on the face of Re-land Applications (not otherwise) parties will be furnished with Certificates giving particulars of Rowanahs, in order that they may be fully aware of the dates on which those Rowanahs will become time-expired; and such Certificates will have the force and validity of Rowanahs for any remaining period of the currency of the latter. If Exchange Rowanahs be required, they will be granted on application, with reference to the Provisions of Sections XXVI. and XXVII. of Regulation IX. of 1810. If Rowanahs shall have become time-expired between the date of Original Export, and that of Re-land, then no such Certificates can be granted; and the Goods in question will, if brought for Re-exportation, be treated as fresh Exports.

If Goods are Exported only in part, and not in full, of the quantities specified in Rowanahs, then those Rowanahs remain in the hands of the Parties concerned; and in the event, consequently, of such portions of Goods being Re-landed, no such Certificates as those above described will be issued.

Fort William, this 1st day of March, 1834.

W. H. SMOULT, Registrar.

To C. B. GREENLAW, Esq.

Secy. to the New Bengal Steam Fund Committee.

Political Department.

SIR,—I am directed to transmit to you the accompanying copy of a Minute by His Excellency the Right Honorable the Governor General, dated the 28th ultimo, for the information of the Committee, and in reply to their letter to the address of His Excellency under date the 28th January last.

I have the honor to be,

Sir, your most obedient humble Servant,

C. E. TREVELYAN,

Depy. Secy. to Government.

Council Chamber, 14th April, 1834.

MINUTE OF THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Before I advert to the report of the Steam Committee under date the 28th January 1834, recommending the plan which shall effect the cheapest and most generally useful Steam Communication between England and India, a few preliminary remarks will be necessary to extricate the question from the confusion in which it has been placed by the voluminous and needless discussions that have arisen between the several Committees; and at the same time to exhibit to the Home Authorities, as clearly and concisely as possible, the very simple data upon which a decision as to future measures would seem to depend.

It is my intention to avoid any reference to differences of opinion; and only to state the circumstances as they have occurred, and the resolutions which from time to time have been formed to carry into effect the great object of a quicker intercourse between the two Countries—an object in which the European Community have expressed so deep and general an interest; and towards the promotion of

Bengal Sa. Rs. 1,68,000
Madras. 41,000
Bombay. 85,000

which a subscription has been made, far surpassing the largest amount that, with reference to the universal distress occasioned by the recent failures, my most sanguine expectations had anticipated.

The first plan determined upon was to establish a quarterly communication between Bombay and Suez. It was thought that the Hugh Lindsay alone could accomplish this undertaking. The principal object of a quarterly communication was, besides confirming the success of the Hugh Lindsay's previous voyages, to ascertain by continued and periodical departures the probable extent of the intercourse, as well as by Passengers as by Letters; and thus to estimate the probable amount of the income. The expensive sailing of the Hugh Lindsay afforded a sufficient criterion of the maximum expenditure.

It is necessary to state that when the subject was first taken up by the Society of Calcutta, many very intelligent persons then advocated a direct communication between Calcutta and the Red Sea. At a later period Mr. Greenlaw published a Pamphlet shewing the superior advantages, to India in general, of this line of communication, in which I agreed in opinion with that Gentleman; but it appeared to me that the more simple and shorter communication with Bombay was more likely to receive the concurrence of the Home Authorities; and, this line being once established, it would be easy afterwards to extend it. Mr. Greenlaw stated to me at the time that he had no desire to interfere with the measure that had been already adopted; and an opinion to this purport will be found in the preface of his publication. I gladly avail myself of this occasion of expressing, in concurrence with the Society of Calcutta, my acknowledgments to Mr. Greenlaw for his zealous and successful endeavours to bring before the public all information that might conduce to a clear understanding of the subject. As far as I have seen of the views of that intelligent Gentleman, he has been actuated by the sole and single desire to promote the general interests and convenience of India and England, those of Bombay being equally comprehended.

It was learnt from Bombay that the Hugh Lindsay alone was unequal to a quarterly communication; and that her power could not contend against the S. W. Monsoon. There was no other Steamer at Bombay. The only other Steamer in India, capable of coping with an adverse Monsoon was the Forbes; but she was private Property, belonging to one of the Houses that had failed; and it never occurred to any one to my knowledge that it would be practicable, or within the scope of our limited Funds, even if the Assignees would have given their consent, to transfer the Vessel to Bombay.

As far then as Bombay was concerned the original plan could not be executed; but, convinced of the great importance of keeping up the quarterly communication for the purpose of bringing the great measure to bear at the earliest possible period, I confess that I hailed with pleasure a dilemma which seemed to force upon us the only alternative of making the next attempt direct from Calcutta; and a suggestion to that effect was made by me to the Steam Committee, provided always that the Forbes could be hired upon reasonable terms, and that in other respects she was considered fit for the undertaking.

I presume that a doubt cannot be entertained of the preference to be given to that plan which shall bring Passengers, Valuable Goods, Packets and Letters by Sea to the Three Principal Ports of Ceylon, Madras, and Bengal, over that which is confined to the single Port of Bombay, between which place and the other more important Presidencies there intervenes a distance as per margin:—and with no other conveyance than the ordinary foot practicability of this direct route. It has appeared to me to be a great object to have correctly and exactly laid down all the circumstances, the advantages, and the disadvantages of the two lines, in order that, whether the future execution be undertaken by Government, or by Contractors, the plan at least may be formed upon the best ascertained data. For the same reasons, though previously surveyed, it seemed to me important that the Surveyor General of India should give his official testimony to the fitness or otherwise of Socotra as a Depot. I cannot but think it to have been wisely decided by the Committee that the Funds placed at their disposal would be best applied to frequent experimental Voyages, that should place the practicability and expence beyond all doubt. It was early discovered that this or any future subscription to be raised in India must be wholly insufficient for the maintenance of a permanent communication. This latter can only be executed by the Government (and to no more useful purpose for the good of both Countries could the Funds of India be appropriated), or by the Merchants of England interested in the Trade to China and India.

Preparatory to a consideration of the plan of the Committee, and of the proposition of others to effect this object, I must refer to a suggestion made by me, with a view to the performance of the work by contract, and to thus saving the Government from an undefined and hitherto most extravagant expenditure in the employment of the ill-adapted Hugh Lindsay,—that a bonus of two Lacs per annum for five years should be given by the Government, the profit of the Passengers and mails being thrown in for the benefit of the undertakers.

While the Steam Committee had under consideration the report required by Mr. Macnaghten's Letter of the 5th of September 1833, a proposition was made to me by a Committee of the merchants at Calcutta to take the contract upon a bonus of five Lacs per annum for five years, the postage being reserved by Government, which was estimated by them at two Lacs per annum. I have not the paper by me, I may therefore misstate some of the conditions;—but I recollect sufficient of the plan to enable me to give its outline, and to explain the reasons why I rejected it. I did not mean to have adverted to it at all, but upon reflection it struck me that a discussion of a real proposition made upon the spot may better serve to enable those at a distance to come to a satisfactory conclusion.

The Plan started with assuming as indispensable to success that it should embrace the whole line from every port in India; that is, to use a common expression in Europe, that Passengers should be booked from London all the way to India, every intermediate expence being provided for by the contractor for one given sum.

I dissented from the justness of this calculation. My opinion was that Travellers, both going and coming, would for the great part either prefer the Steam Packet of the Government to Malta, or would choose the land route to Malta, or Egypt, via the Continent, and vice versa. I moreover thought that a much simpler and less expensive scheme would be for the Contractors to confine themselves to the Indian side of the communication—that is, from Suez to Calcutta. I undertook to engage the Government at Home, that the only vacant part of the line on the European side, viz. from Malta to Alexandria, should be filled by a Government Steamer; and I also undertook, if the Hugh Lindsay should not be equal to the conveyance of the Mails from Socotra to Bombay, that an additional Steamer should be furnished for that purpose; but the Committee of Merchants would not agree to these propositions.

In order to excuse myself for the presumption of thus having undertaken for the consent of the Government to a part execution of the plan, I have to mention, upon the authority of Captain Johnston, the disposition of the Admiralty to give a ready assent to this part of the plan. But otherwise I should not have hesitated to have given this pledge; because I cannot conceive it possible that the same consideration for interests so comparatively trivial as those of the Ionian Islands and the Levant, which had been thought sufficient to warrant the extension of a Government Steamer to Corfu, should not at once have determined for the expediency of the most rapid communication with a part of the world, where England and India have happily a reciprocal interest of a magnitude and importance which the imagination can with difficulty grasp.

The far greater part of the distance from London to Malta being already provided for by a monthly Government Packet, I did not think the English Government would willingly assent to a second expence as it were for the same part of the line. I rejected it accordingly. I thought further that the receipts of postage were very much over estimated; at least for a year or two until the plan could come into regular operation.

I moreover was of opinion that the Government itself could execute the plan confined to the Indian side at a much less charge than five lacs, with the advantage of having a complete establishment of steamers, which either in case of war or of any other political exigency might constitute a great addition to the public strength and resources.

I now come in conclusion to the opinion of the Committee, recommending a contract coinciding with the Committee of Merchants that it will be more beneficial for the contractors and more conducive to despatch, that the contract should embrace the whole line from England to the four principal points in India and Ceylon,--Bombay, Galle, Madras, and Calcutta; and the following terms are proposed as likely to make a fair return for risk and expence.

1st. A bonus of three lacs per annum for five years.

2dly. All profits upon passengers, parcels, &c. and postage of letters between England and India, except the Government despatches, which are to be carried free of all expence as well by sea as through Egypt.

3dly. The postage upon private letters to be two rupees for a single letter—one rupee payable in England, and one rupee in India.

My original proposition gave in addition to the bonus of two lacs, the postage of the Government despatches to the contractor. The calculations of the Committee show that their own scheme involves very little additional expence, if any, beyond my own. And, considering in every respect the very superior advantages held out to the whole of India, I cannot but second the plan of the Committee with my decided recommendation; and express at the same time a hope, if individuals may be found willing to accept the terms, that this great measure, so important to the great interests of the Empire, and to the comfort and happiness of so many thousands of our countrymen in this distant clime, may be carried into immediate operation.

No. 95 of 1834.—The Honorable the Vice President in Council is pleased to direct, that the following Paragraphs (1 and 3) of a Military Letter from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, No. 98, dated the 6th November 1833, be published in General Orders:

Para. 1. "We have permitted Surgeon Walter Glass, late of your Establishment, to retire from the Service: His retirement takes effect from the 28th August 1833.

FORT WILLIAM, 24th April, 1834.
No. 96 of 1834.—The Hon'ble the Vice Present in Council is pleased to direct, that the following Paras. (3 to 5) of a Military Letter from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, No. 97, dated the 6th November 1833, the provisions of which are applicable to the Three Presidencies, be published in General Orders:

Para. 3. "We direct that Fees upon Commissions granted by His Majesty to the Company's Officers, shall be hereafter collected by, and credited to, Government, in the same manner as the Fees on Company's Commissions are now collected and credited, and that the Salary to be hereafter granted to the Military Secretary of the Commander in Chief, be Two Thousand Two Hundred and Fifty Rupees, (Rupees 2,250) per month, in lieu of Fees and all other Emoluments.

4. We observe a great discrepancy in the rates of Fees levied from Officers of the same rank at our several Presidencies, and that those rates in most instances materially exceed the rates paid by Officers of corresponding rank in His Majesty's Service.

5. We therefore direct that the Fees on Commissions to be hereafter paid by the Company's Officers at all the Presidencies, be the same as those charged to His Majesty's Officers of corresponding rank, and that one moiety of those Fees be charged for the Company's, and the other moiety for the King's Commissions."
